Notice Regarding Spot Counselling for UG Programmes Against Vacant Seats

1. The spot counselling for admission against vacant seats in various UG programmes is scheduled to be held on 27.08.2026 from 10:00 AM to 06:00 PM at the respective Departments of BBAU, Lucknow.
   Further, it is informed that Spot Counselling for UG programmes offered in Amethi satellite Centre shall also be organised in Lucknow campus in the office of OSD Amethi Satellite Centre in addition to the Amethi Satellite Centre.

(No candidate will be allowed to participate in spot counselling after the specified date and time.)

2. Candidates are advised to check the details of vacant seats in their respective departments on the University website before appearing for the counselling.
3. All candidates who are listed in the CUET score list available on the BBAU website are eligible to participate in spot counselling. Only those candidates who are physically present will be considered for admission based on the spot counselling merit list.
4. Candidates who do not attend the counselling will not be included in the merit list and shall not be considered for admission under any circumstances.

Documents Required (One set of self-attested photocopies):

- High School (10th), Intermediate (12th), and UG mark sheets and certificates
- Migration Certificate and Character Certificate (if available)
- Caste Certificate (for SC/ST candidates)
- Valid Income Certificate
- EWS Certificate (for eligible EWS candidates)
- Valid Photo ID card

5. Students who have already been admitted up to phase-II, do not need to attend the spot counselling
6. Applicants who were selected in Phase-I & Phase-II but failed to pay the admission fees and have applied for an extension are required to attend the spot counselling in person for further consideration.
7. Participation in spot counselling does not guarantee admission. Admission will be granted strictly on the basis of merit prepared during Spot counselling which is based on the CUET score and availability of seats in the respective programme.
