- Activity 8: One day workshop on 'Waste Management'

A one day workshop on "Waste Management" was organized on 15th September. Waste management is one of the key issues facing our country in the present day scenario. All the big cities of India suffer from the problem of improper waste disposal. Large mounds of wastes can be seen around the cities in India. To make our country Swacch and clean this waste has to be managed properly and if possible it should be utilized to make useful products or recycled. Speakers were invited from different parts of country and gave talks during the workshop emphasizing on the role of each and every individual of the country in cleanliness drive. They also explained how to manage wastes and explained the diverse roles of Central and State Governments and also what improvements are needed at municipal levels. The luminaries also discussed about the actions required at grass root level including villages, small towns and cities. Experts showed how organic waste can be converted to useful manure and in this way on one hand pollution can be reduced and on other the use of chemicals can also be brought down, in the agriculture. The speakers/ scientists also emphasized about the utilization of modern techniques in amalgamation with traditional ones to manage the waste and make agriculture chemical free. More than two hundred students participated in the workshop.

- Activity 9: Mass Pledge

On 15th September, 2016 was carried out in which students, faculty and non-teaching staff took the Swachhta Pledge. The Volunteers (student of the University) also went to each and every department of the University and encourage the student of respective department to take Swachhta Pledge.

- Activity 10: Plantation Drive

Plantation Drive was carried out in the Botanical Garden of the University in which more than 100 trees were planted by the faculty and the officers of the University. The faculty/officers sponsored the trees and planted them by themselves taking pledge to bring them up and take care of their saplings. The trees planted were of more than 60 different species which are indigenous to our country and some of them are very rare and on the verge of extinction.

All the activities were carried out very sincere manner during Swachh Bharat Pakhwada and resulted in upliftment and improvement of the University environment. The students learned the importance of cleanliness and sanitation and were also able to interact with the experts of waste management. The Swachh Bharat Pakhwada hence proved to be a very successful drive.
